Experts who speak professionally

"I had the privilege of hearing Deri Latimer speak as a Keynote at CMED's Conference in Phoenix, AZ. She captivates, motivates and positively engages an audience with her unique combination of wisdom about neuroscience and positive behaviors that can be life-changing when put into action. I would recommend her without any reservation for those seeking a speaker who can move an audience from associates on a manufacturing floor to members of an executive leadership team – into action. Her takeaways are designed for positive impact. Prepare to laugh, to be curious, to be hungry for more time to listen to Deri – and for desire to make positive change."
